

30th SUNDAY in ORDINARY TIME
YEAR B – October 28, 2018

Last weekend Deacon George quoted the wisdom of George Burns on the question of what constitutes a good sermon (homily)?. Burns said, “A good sermon needs a good beginning and a good ending and the two of them should be as close together as possible”. The Gospel today (Mark 10:46-52) gives me an opportunity to do just that.

There are times in each of our lives when we need to ask for help. It is not an easy thing to do for many people but all of us must do it at one time or another.

Sometimes we must do it before we reach old age and sometimes we have to do it because we reach old age.

Bartimaeus, the blind man in the Gospel today, asked Jesus for help because no one else at that time was able to help him.

Jesus said to him, “What do you want me to do for you?”

And Bartimaeus said, “Lord, I want to see”.

The rest of that story is history.

Imagine Jesus standing before you and asking you, "What do you want me to do for you?"

Mark 10:51
51 "What do you want me to do for you?"
Jesus asked him.
